

FAMILY PHYSICIAN With dōTERRA Essential Oils

"I finally figured out how to use essential oils—TAKE OFF THE CAP"

You can use essential oils in 3 ways: topically, internally, and aromatically. If the bottle has a 'supplement' box on the label, you can feel completely safe using it internally. When diluting* the essential oils, use one drop of Fractionated Coconut Oil (FCO) for one or two drops of the essential oil. It is not necessary to dilute all essential oils, but depending on skin sensitivity or the type of oil, you will want to consider diluting. Some essential oils which are particularly cool (peppermint or wintergreen) may need to be diluted and hot oils (Oregano, Cinnamon, Clove, and Cassia) should always be diluted regardless of skin sensitivity. If you use an oil without diluting, and it is uncomfortable to the recipient, simply apply a small amount of FCO and it will quickly resolve the problem. Also, if you are using the oils on an open sore or wound, it is always a good idea to dilute. If the oils get in the eyes, it will sting but will not do damage. Simply rub a few drops of your diluter oil on the eye, and it will help to relieve the discomfort. You can combine and mix any of the oils as much as you like.

If you are not sure how to apply the oil, know that you can ALWAYS rub it on the bottoms of the feet, and you will get the full effect. This can be a great way when using them on children because they are less likely to rub it in their eyes. For a small problem, 2 or 3 applications a day is probably enough. For more serious problems, apply every hour or half hour. For pain and digestive remedies, you would typically rub the oils right on the spot of discomfort and reapply as needed. For oral application, dilute and rub on gums or teeth or swish around in the mouth.

*For diluting, you can use Olive Oil, Almond Oil, Grapeseed Oil, or FCO, among others. An application is usually 1-4 drops of an essential oil.
